Dear Ones,

"I remember when ... " I wonder if our children's children will be able to say that about the classic stories found in the Bible one day. Do you remember the story of the first Passover? Do you remember how that generation was to pass the significance of that event to another generation? Take time to tell your children of the great acts of God! That, my friends, is my ambition for you, your children, and those who are far off. The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob is your God and my God ... and the God of our offspring. That will be true only if we purpose to teach them.

Parents and grandparents, what might we be doing to raise our children to know the God of the Bible and his mighty movement among men? It is time to start sharing some practical helps. The book of Deuteronomy (chapter 6) says keep the things of the Lord before your children at all times. Be prepared to use or create "teachable" moments. Much of our effort should be purposed. Take time to read Bible stories to your children. If you must use electronics, plug into resources like "Rightnowmedia.org" (a free to you digital library) for some great materials. Be in the good habit of bringing your children to Bible classes every Sunday. Make them participate in a good, Bible focused program like T.A.S.K. Send them to Church camp. Don't make the mistake of thinking you've done your part by these things alone.

You. Too, need to be involved. Be sure you are seen reading your Bible and telling how God is working in your life through His Word.

Lord Bless,
Preacher Jack

Youth Minister's Post

Let's take a look at Acts 2:40-43. "With many other words he warned them; and he pleaded with them, 'Save yourselves from this corrupt generation.' Those who accepted his message were baptized, and about three thousand were added to their number that day. They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to the fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Everyone was filled with awe, and many wonders and miraculous signs were done by the apostles." About 3,000 people became new believers when Peter preached the Good News about Christ. These new Christians were united with the other believers, taught by the apostles, and included in the prayer meetings and fellowship. New believers in Christ need to be around other believers where they can learn God's Word, pray, and mature in faith. I am excited to say that Emily Terrill and Sylvia Darland accepted Christ as their personal Lord and Savior while at I-MO Camp earlier this summer. Let's make sure that we encourage and pray for these young ladies as they have started their new journey.

In Christ, Josiah Holloway

"Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all comprehension, shall guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus."
